

History of Lies | Podcast (Fr)

Lies are a universal phenomenon. We see them appear everywhere, from highest ranks of the state to most banal tabloids. In politics, as much as in the arts, the lie has become an art in itself, one that is maintained and refined as time goes by.

In the podcast series Histoire du mensonge, Xavier Mauduit discusses the (hi)story of lies in politics, art and daily life.